FOREWORD

THIS is a list of Rhode Island eighteenth-century publications. It shows what the printing press of the colony and state produced before the year 1801, and where these early imprints may be found by investigators. The list gives a brief title of every book, pamphlet, newspaper, fly-sheet and broadside printed in Rhode Island during that period which has been found in the public and private libraries that are known to contain material relating to this state. Other titles, of which the originals have not been found, have been copied from the "Bibliography of Newport" compiled by Charles E. Hammett, Jun., and published in 1887; from Charles Evans's "American Bibliography, 1639-1789;" from Joseph Sabin's "Dictionary of Books relating to America, A-Sm;" and from the catalogues of booksellers and auction sales.

The list was prepared by the John Carter Brown Library as part of an effort to learn what material is available for the study of the history of printing in America, and also for the purpose of securing data upon which to base an estimate of the number of eighteenth-century American imprints now in existence.

The following pages contain the titles of 1565 separate publications printed between 1727 and 1800. The regular issues of a newspaper, as well as the supplements and usually the extra issues, are counted as one in each year. Over two-thirds of the whole number, 1089, are in the library of the Rhode Island Historical Society. This is probably a larger proportion of the early typographic output of a single state than exists in any other collection. Of the titles not in the Society's library, 143 are elsewhere in Providence. As there are 72 entries based on records, of which no original copy is known to be now in existence, these figures show that over eighty-two per cent of what remains of eighteenth-century Rhode Island printing is accessible in its original form in this city.

Of the total number of titles, 1125 date from before the year 1790, the period so far covered by Mr. Evans's invaluable "American Bibliography." Evans gives the titles of 808 Rhode Island imprints, or about seventy per cent of those in the present list.

The concentration of this material in a single building is due largely to the generous co-operation of those who are in charge of the other libraries in Providence. For fifteen years it has been the recognized policy of the librarians of this city to work together in building up each of their collections in certain clearly defined fields, and to avoid all possible duplication of material, with consequent waste of resources. With only two noticeable exceptions, where the wishes of donors prevented this policy from being carried out, the other libraries have systematically contributed to the Rhode Island Historical Society everything that would help to make that institution stronger in its special and appropriate field.

In return, the Society has helped to provide every library in the state with a collection of books on Rhode Island history. It has contributed also from its accumulations in other subjects not so properly a part of its own collection, to the libraries of Brown University, the Providence Athenæum and Public Library, and the State Library. Quite recently it has arranged for the deposit of its large duplicate collection of Rhode Island newspapers with the American Antiquarian Society at Worcester, assuring for this state a prominent representation in the principal collection of American newspapers. To the Librarian of that Society, Clarence S. Brigham, the Historical Society is indebted more than to anyone else for the comprehensive character of its Rhode Island collection.

So large a proportion of these titles belong to the Rhode Island Historical Society that no attempt has been made to locate, in this printed list, other copies of those that are found in that collection. The nearest rival is the library gathered by Sidney S. Rider, which was given by Marsden J. Perry in 1903 to Brown University, where it occupies a room in the John Hay Library building. The John Carter Brown Library, likewise a part of Brown University, also possesses many of these titles. Many others, including some of the most important ones not found anywhere else, belong to Fred A. Arnold of Providence. This list is, indeed, largely an outgrowth of notes generously loaned by Mr. Arnold. Many of the Newport imprints belong to the Newport Historical Society, and the Redwood Library in that city has an important collection of early newspapers. Several important broadsides and tracts not found elsewhere are in the George Haile Free Library at Warren, the Westerly Public Library, and in the collections of Dr. Roderick Terry of Newport and Mr. Henry Russell Drowne of New York.

The Rhode Island Historical Society and the John Carter Brown Library are under deep obligations to the custodians and owners of each of the collections mentioned above, and to those in charge of the other libraries and archives which are named in the list, for information and friendly co-operation without which it could not have approached its present comprehensiveness. The data was brought together by Miss Rebecca P. Steere of the John Carter Brown Library, and to her its thoroughness is due.

The short-title, printer's name, and the location of a copy or of the evidence upon which it is included, are all that this list aims to give. No attempt is made to show the size of each publication, whether a folio compilation of laws or a three-page political manifesto. An exception is made in the case of broadsides, which include everything printed on one side only of a single sheet. One reason for specifying these is that the John Carter Brown Library has a set approaching completeness of photostat prints of the Rhode Island broadsides, as well as of many of the separately printed Acts of Assembly and some other smaller publications. The same library also has negatives of nearly all the extant copies of the Newport Mercury, issued before the end of the year 1776. It is prepared to furnish copies of any of these at cost to students or to other libraries.

No systematic effort has been made to discover titles of books or broadsides which were probably, or in some cases certainly, printed, but which have apparently entirely disappeared. The list contains, nevertheless, a number of these titles of publications which have not been found in any library. Most of these are taken from the "Schedules" of proceedings of the General Assembly. The Schedules preserve the record of payments made for printing several proclamations and separate laws, of which no copies have been found. These have been included in the list, so far as they have been noted, when the reference seems to imply a separate publication and not merely the insertion of the document in the printer's newspaper.

Other titles are taken from the advertisements in the contemporary newspapers of books "just published." Most of the books so advertised were those that were printed elsewhere and offered for sale at the local bookshop. The advertiser did not always distinguish clearly between the things printed on his own press and those which he imported from Boston or Philadelphia. Some of the titles in Evans's Bibliography, especially those ascribed by him to Bennett Wheeler's press, of which no copies have been found, were very likely not printed in Providence.

The Rhode Island printers may sometimes have produced books which do not appear in this list because they were printed for booksellers elsewhere, with only the name of the publisher on the title page, and nothing to show where the actual printing was done. The number of these must be small, but there is at least one, a "Fourth Edition" of the Letters of Lady Mary Montagu, with the imprint "New York: Printed MDCCCLXVI." This book seems to be typographically identical with one which has the imprint: "Providence, in New-England: Printed and sold by Sarah Goddard, and Company. M,DCC,LXVI." It is thought that this was printed by Mrs. Goddard for the New York trade, and that she issued a few copies for local sale. Such a proceeding would probably not have been considered in any way improper at that time, however annoying it may prove to later bibliographers.

Necessarily far from being absolutely complete, this list probably includes every sort of thing that came from the colonial printers, which was intended to be read. It does not include the things which were of primary importance to the printers themselves, because they went furthest toward finding a steady sale for ready money. The most profitable work done by the early presses, with the possible exception of the Almanacks, was the printing of legal and commercial blank-forms. It is obviously impossible to include these in such a list as this, for the number of different impressions of each form, such as those for deeds or mortgages, was countless, and few of them contain the printer's name or date. The earliest of these forms produced by James Franklin soon after he set up the first press at Newport, may be recognized with considerable certainty, and some of them have typographic interest. Franklin's son produced a very good-looking portage bill for the signatures of mariners joining a voyage, of which he was apparently proud, for he put his name on it. Solomon Southwick also put his name on an issue of these important maritime documents, as may be seen on the facsimile of one which is the frontispiece to the volume on Rhode Island Commerce published by the Massachusetts Historical Society. For the most part, however, all of these forms were printed and reprinted to meet the demands of trade, and the bulk of them are without interest of any sort, except as their total number shows how the printers made a living.

The advertisement at the end of the Rev. James Honeyman's "Faults on all Sides," printed at Newport in 1728, concludes with the statement that "Bonds, Bills, Powers of Attorney, Paper by the Ream, Snuff, Tea and Coffee by the Pound or Ounce, may be had at reasonable Rates." Every printer who established his press in a new community, busied himself to provide as soon as possible these and all other forms for which there was a demand. In the third issue of his "Providence Gazette," William Goddard announced "to be sold cheap for ready Money, At the Printing-Office near the Court-House (the old State House between North Main and Benefit Streets), A Variety of Books, Stationary, &c. &c. Among which are

"Blanks, Policies of Insurance, Portage Bills, Bills of Lading and Sale, Letters of Attorney, Administration Bonds, common Bonds, Deeds, Writs, and Executions, and all Kinds of Blanks used in this Colony, neatly printed, and sold as cheap as at any Printing-Office in New-England, or elsewhere; either Wholesale or Retail."

Many different printings of these various forms have been noted during the collection of the data for this list. In addition to those advertised by the printers for public sale, there were blank forms for apprenticeship, colony and town treasurers' notes, and later bank notes, bills of exchange, clearance and other customs-house papers, deeds of sale, military commissions, enlistment papers, regimental and company returns of men, arms and accoutrements, bills of sale for shares in privateers, tavern licenses, and tickets for the long succession of lotteries.

Under each year, beginning about the middle of the century, might have been added to the list at least one "Prox" or ballot for the general officers who were named at the May session of the Assembly. Most of these have at the top the sentiment or battle-cry of the partisans whose leaders are named on the ballot, and a few of them were dated. Much research will be necessary, however, before they can all be placed in order with certainty. Those which contain the names of the successful candidates can be assigned to the proper year without great difficulty. It is not often as easy to be certain of the year in which those were circulated that contain names which were not chosen. The Rhode Island Historical Society possesses a large proportion, although probably not all, of these old election proxies, awaiting the attention of some investigator into the political byways of Colonial times.

By Poor ROBIN.

NEWPORT. Printed and Sold by J Franklin, at his Printing-House on Tillinghast's
Wharf, near the Union-Flag Tavern 1728.

To my loving Countrymen in the Colony of Rhode-Island, &c.

I HAVING in my younger Years devoted some Leisure Hours to the Study of the Mathematics, more especially that Part of it which led me to the Contemplation of the heavenly Bodies; and being now importuned by some Persons of Note in this Colony, I have here presented you with an Almanack for the ensuing Year, fitted to the Meridian of Newport; which contains the Fells, Changes, and Quarters of the Moon, with her Passage through, and Dominion over the Body of Man and Beast, with her Rising and Setting, the rising and setting of the Sun, the Courts of this and the neighbouring Colonys, Judgment of the Weather, Spring Tides, and the exact Time of High Water in the Harbour of Newport. And for the sake of some who keep Days holy, and others who keep Holy-Days, I have inserted the Saint's Days, and other Holy-Days of the Church of England.

Tho' I have not given you my proper Name, yet I assure you I have had one the greatest part of half an hundred Years; and I know of no Necessity for parting with it at this Time, since I presume my Almanack will answer all the Ends design'd without that Expence. So, wishing you a happy new Year; bid you adieu.

Poor ROBIN.

Newport, Aug. 30. 1727.

VENUS is Morning Star until the 12th of August, then Evening Star to the Year's end.

Notice is hereby given to the Curious,

That at the COURT-HOUSE, in the Council-Chamber, is now to be exhibited, and continued from Day to Day, for a Week or two.

A COURSE of EXPERIMENTS, on the newly-discovered

Electrical FIRE;

Containing; not only the most curious of those that have been made and published in Europe, but a considerable Number of new Ones lately made in Philadelphia, to be accompanied with methodical LECTURES on the Nature and Properties of that wonderful Element.

By Ebenezer Kinnersley.

LECTURE I.

I. OF Electricity in General, giving some Account of the Discovery of it.

II. That the Electric Fire is a real Element, and different from those heretofore known and named, and collected out of other Matter (not created) by the Friction of Glass, &c.

III. That it is an extremely subtle Fluid.

IV. That it doth not take up any perceptible Time in passing thro' large Portions of Space.

V. That it is intimately mixed with the Substance of all Bodies.

VI. That our Bodies at all Times contain enough of it to set a House on Fire.

VII. That tho' it will fire inflammable Matters, it itself has no scissible Heat.

VIII. That it differs from common Matter, in that its Parts do not mutually attract, but mutually reject each other.

IX. That it is strongly attracted by all other Matter.

X. An artificial Spider, animated by the Electric Fire, so as to act like a live One.

XI. A Shower of Sand, which rises again as fast as it falls.

XII. That common Matter in the form of Points attracts this Fire more strongly than in any other Form.

XIII. A Leaf of the most weighty of Metals suspended in the Air, as is said of Mahomet's Tomb.

XIV. An Apparatus like Filices swimming in the Air.

XV. That this Fire will live in Water, a River not being sufficient to quench the smallest Spark of it.

XVI. A Representation of the Sensitive Plant.

XVII. A Representation of the seven Planets, shewing a probable Cause of their keeping their due Distances from each other, and from the Sun to the Center.

XVIII. The Salute repulsed by the Ladies Fire, or Fire darting from a Ladies Lips, so that she may defy any Person to salute her.

XIX. Eight musical Bells rung by an electrified Phil of Water.

XX. A Battery of eleven Guns discharged by Fire, issuing out of a Person's Finger.

LECTURE II.

I. A Description and Explanation of Mr. Moffatt's wonderful Bottle.

II. The amazing Force of the Electric Fire in passing thro' a Number of Bodies at the same Instant.

III. An Electric Mine sprung.

IV. Electrified Money, which scarce any Body will take when offered to them.

V. A Piece of Money drawn out of a Person's Mouth in spite of his Teeth, yet without touching it, or offering him the least Violence.

VI. Spirits kindled by Fire darting from a Lady's Eyes.

VII. Various Representations of Lightning, the Cause and Effects of which will be explained by a more probable Hypothesis than has hitherto appeared, and some useful Instructions given, how to avoid the Danger of it.

VIII. The Force of the Electric Spark, making a fair Hair thro' a Quack's Paper.

IX. Metal melted by it (tho' without any Heat) in less than a fourth Part of a Minute.

X. A Gun killed by it.

XI. Air issuing out of a Bladder set on Fire by a Spark from a Person's Finger, and burning like a Volcano.

XII. A few Drops of electrified cold Water let fall on a Person's Hand, supplying him with Fire sufficient to kindle a burning Plane with one of the Fingers of his other Hand.

XIII. A Sublimed Vapour kindled into Flame by Fire issuing out of a cold Apple.

XIV. A chimical Machine acting by means of the Electric Fire, and playing Variety of Tunes on eight musical Bells.

XV. A Battery of eleven Guns discharged by a Spark, after it has passed through ten Foot of Water.

XVI. The Knowledge of Nature tends to enlarge the human Mind, and give us more noble, more grand, and exalted Ideas of the Attributes of Nature, and of our own Mind.

XVII. The Knowledge of Nature tends to enlarge the human Mind, and give us more noble, more grand, and exalted Ideas of the Attributes of Nature, and of our own Mind.

MERCURY,

Advertiser;

MONDAY, JUNE 19. 1758.

THE Advantage and Utility of a NEWS-PAPER to the Public, is so obvious, that it requires little to be said to recommend a Thing of the Kind. And as the Publication of a Paper in this Colony, has been long wish'd for, and frequently request'd, is proposed to publish one weekly, on every Monday, at the moderate Consideration of one Dollar a Year, so long as the present Size of this Paper is continued for Lausful Money or (Old-Tenor equivalent) to each Subscriber.

AND the Public may be assur'd, that no Party Disputes will ever have a Place in this Paper: But in a Death of News, which in this remote Part of the World may sometimes reasonably be expected, whatever may be presented, which will promote the Interest of this Colony, and tend to make us a more virtuous, a more flourishing, and a more happy People, will cheerfully be inserted.

AND as the earliest Advice which may be obtained in other Papers, cannot at all Times be obtained in this, Care will be taken to collect from them, what may appear to be worth inserting in this Paper.

AND it must appear unnecessary, to say any Thing relating to the Advantage which will accrue to the trading Part of this Colony, in having the Benefit of a public Paper to insert Advertisements, as the Example of our neighbouring Colonies, where Papers are published, is a convincing Proof of its general Service in that Respect.

AND for the more expeditious and safe Conveyance of this Paper to the several Towns and Colonies, the Marshal will be taken; to send all the Papers belonging to each respective Town, with the Name of each Subscriber, wrote thereon, and under Cover, and directed to some proper Person, residing where it will be attended with the least Difficulty to the Inhabitant in receiving them, which they will be the best Judges of; and a Paper will be sent gratis to every such Person, for his Trouble and Care in delivering them.

AND every Objection would willingly be removed, which may arise with respect to this Paper, in its first Publication; therefore, it is thought to be said, that the Price is much smaller than those at present published in Philadelphia, New-York, and Essex, let it be consider'd, that the Price is also less in Proportion, and that even in those large Places, with Provinces extensive and populous, the Papers published amongst them, in their Inquiry extend no more than what might be compriz'd in half a Sheet; but as the Number of Subscribers and Advertisements increase, these Papers were enlarg'd in Proportion. And it is should likewise be said, that there is contain'd in this Paper, is somewhat stale before published—it must be acknowledg'd, that with Respect to Newport and Providence, who have the Advantage of a very early Intelligence, it will undoubtedly be so; but this ought also to be consider'd, that the Inhabitants who reside at a Distance from those two Towns, cannot have an Opportunity to be so immediately and properly acquainted therewith.

AND the Number of Subscribers, at the Commencement of this Paper, is so far from being adequate to the Expence and Trouble which must consequently be devoted to this Service; yet it is not doubted, but that the Inhabitants of this Colony will cheerfully promote an Undertaking of this Kind.

THERE was Reason to believe, that this Paper would, at this Time, have been introduced to the Public with new Character, as Part of a new Printing Office from London, had been contract'd for, by the Printer thereof, principally for that Purpose, which may daily be expected; therefore 'tis hop'd there will be dispos'd with till an Arrival.

The Earl of Liverpool Packet, Capt. Morris, only arriv'd at New-York from Palmar, brought the following fresh Advice:

From Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters at Munster, April 8. The Castle of Yverhois has been secured by Capitulation within three few Days. It was besieged by a Captain with a Detachment of 150 Men from Bremen. The Garrison consisted of 3 Companies; but what will hardly be credited, is, that upwards of 100 Pieces of Cannon and Mortars were found in the Place.

Landour (in Germany) March 22. The King of Prussia, who arriv'd here the 23th, set out the 19th for Griefen, where his Head Quarters of his Army will be established to-morrow.

Darmstadt (Capital of Regal Prussia, in the Kingdom of Poland) March 26. Upon Advice that a large Body of Russian Troops, detach'd to the greatest Part of the Garrison of Stettin, was advancing towards the Castle, in order to besiege them, several Detachments of the latter, that were left behind, received Orders to join the main Body of their Army. Five or six Thousand Russians have pass'd the Vistula, and observe the Motions of their Enemies. It does not yet seem to be decided whether the whole Army shall cross that River.

Prague (Capital of Bohemia) March 29. The Prussians push the Siege of Schweidnitz with the utmost Vigour, Marshal Daun being upon the March to relieve it; and as the King is coming at the Head of his Army to meet Marshal Daun, he expect almost every Moment to hear the News of a bloody Battle.

Desden, March 27. 'Tis still said, that the Motions of Marshal Keith tend to make an Invasion in Bohemia, in order to favour the Projects which the King of Prussia is going to execute either against Bohemia or Moravia.

L O N D O N,

April 1. The last Letter from Desden say, that the Prussians are already in Action on every Side. Prince Henry of Prussia is against the Army of Execution, and Marshal Keith has taken the Command of the Army in Pomerania against the Swedes and Russians.

The French having been disappointed in their attempt to get thro' the Straights of Gibraltar, by the preventing the junction of Du Quesne and De la Clue's Squadron, it is said the British Fleet, consisting of 16 Ships of the line, after being manouevred with all the hands from the privateers, and the deficiency made up with land men, are determin'd to come off to five Cape Breton; and if they meet Admiral Hawke, to attack him; and as Adm. Hawke's Fleet consists of only about 17 sail, several Ships have been sent to join him from Plymouth and Portsmouth, to enable him to stop their voyage.

Admiralty Office, April 11.

Extract of a Letter from Admiral Osborne to Mr. [Name], Secretary of the Admiralty, dated on board his Majesty's Ship, at sea, March 12. 1758.

"On the 15th of last month, between Cape de Gon and Castagneta, I fell in with M. du Quesne, in the Foodmont of 80, the Orphos of 64, the Oulante of 60, and the Pleide of 24 guns, which were the four ships sent from Toulon to reinforce M. de la Clue at Castagneta. On their first meeting, they immediately disjoin'd, and bore different courses; on which I detached Ships of each of them, whilst with the main body of my Squadron I stood off the Cape of Castagneta, to watch their Squadron there, and about seven in the evening, Capt. Storr, in the Reserve of 64, supported by Capt. Sington in the Berwick of 64, and Capt. [Name] in the [Name] of 102

[Vol. 1.]

PRINTING OFFICE, PROVIDENCE, October 20, 1862.

[illegible]

By the Advice of several Gentlemen, I have concluded to alter the Time of Publication, from Wednesday Morning to Saturday Afternoon, (to commence on the 10th Instant), that the Gentlemen in Newport, and other Towns in the Southern part of this Government, or in Conamashet, who shall please to favour this Undertaking, may receive their Papers by Post: And as it will contain all the best Advice, which will be published immediately after their Arrival, and will consequently give every Thing mutual from the Eastward, it is presumed every Well-wisher to this Colony will protect it, and any other Scheme can be devised, to make this Paper more beneficial, I should be extremely obliged to our Gentlemen for such Hints, and I shall be in no Trouble or Expense (in my Power, in making the best Use of the Informations.— Subscribers are to be seen in by Dennis Gifford, Henry Paine, Samuel Cleeve, and James Paine, Esqrs.

 Mr. Chubb, Bookseller, Mr. Edenrope Thompson, Mr. Knight Down, Mr. Berjamin Webb, Mr. Joseph Lawrence, and the Publisher.

WILLIAM GODDARD

N. B. Where there are a Number of Subscribers belonging to the same Town, their Papers shall all be included, tied up together, and superimposed with the Town where they are to be sent, and the Printer's Name in said Town, where they are to be sent; and said Papers shall be lodged for Delivery with the Post-Office or Persons in the Town of Providence, as the major Part of the Subscribers shall agree.—All Orders sent from Gentlemen in the Country, will be carefully observed and punctually executed.

By the Honorable JOSEPH WANTON, Esquire, Governor,
(L. S.) Captain General, and Commander in Chief, of and over the English
Colony of Rhode-Island, and Providence Plantations, in New-England, in America.

A P R O C L A M A T I O N.

HEREAS on Tuesday, the ninth Instant in the Night, a Number of People, unknown, boarded His Majesty's armed Schooner the Gaspée, as she lay aground on a Point of Land, called Nanquit, a little to the southward of Pawtuxet, in the Colony aforesaid, who dangerously wounded Lieutenant William Dudington the Commander, and by Force took him with all his People, put them into Boats, and landed them near Pawtuxet; and afterwards set Fire to the said Schooner, whereby she was entirely destroyed:

I HAVE, therefore, thought fit, by and with the Advice of such of His Majesty's Council, as could be seasonably convened, to issue this Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all His Majesty's Officers within the said Colony, both Civil and Military, to exert themselves with the utmost Vigilance, to discover and apprehend the Persons guilty of the aforesaid atrocious Crime, that they may be brought to condign Punishment. And I do hereby offer a Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS, Sterling Money of Great-Britain, to any Person or Persons who shall discover the Perpetrators of the said Villainy, to be paid immediately upon the Conviction of any one or more of them.

AND the several Sheriffs in the said Colony are hereby required, forthwith, to cause this Proclamation to be posted up in the most public Places, in each of the Towns in their respective Counties.

GIVEN under my Hand and Seal at Arms, at Newport, this Twelfth Day of June, in the Twelfth Year of the Reign of His Most Sacred Majesty, GEORGE THE THIRD, by the Grace of God, King of Great-Britain, and so forth, Annoq; Dom. One Thousand, Seven Hundred and Seventy-two.

J. WANTON.

By his Honor's Command,
HENRY WARD, Sec'y.

The Managers appointed by the General Assembly are Nicholas Brown, John Jencks, William Russell, Benjamin Barber, Edward Barber, Nathaniel Wheaton, Daniel Tillinghast, William Holroyd, James Arnold, and Nicholas Power, who have given Bond for the faithful Performance of their respective Trusts.

That the above Scheme is calculated more in Favour of the Adventurers than many heretofore published, is very obvious, as there are upwards of 400 Prizes more than Blanks throughout the Lottery, many of them very valuable, and subject to no Deduction - the Managers therefore promise themselves the cheerful Assistance and Encouragement of the Public, especially when it is considered that this is the first Time the Baptist Society have solicited their Assistance in this Way, which they can assure them would not now have been the Case, had they not purchased more Land, and designed a House as much larger than the Society required for their own Use (purposely to accommodate the Commencements) as will amount to the full Sum proposed to be raised by this Lottery. - The Time and Place of Drawing will be duly notified in the Providence Gazette, and the Money-Prizes paid off in thirty Days after the Drawing of each successive Class shall be made public; if not demanded within six Months after such Time, they will be deemed generously given for the Purpose aforesaid. - Prizes which according to the above Scheme are to be paid in Tickets, and not demanded within 50 Days after the Drawing is made public, will be forfeited.

Tickets may be had of the Managers, at their respective Dwellings.
